1. Introduction

Within the requirements of Corporate Governance principles under Central Bank of Kuwait (CB) instructions with regards to Corporate Governance Rules & Regulations in Kuwaiti banks and the international supervision standards such as the issued by Basel Committee on Banking Supervision in this regard as well as the Companies Law structures about Corporate Governance, Commercial Bank of Kuwait “The Bank” has laid down many years ago a prudent Corporate Governance rules & regulations which considered a key factor in enhancing sound management in the Bank, as the Bank applies a set of bylaws, policies and practices which aim to enhance such principles and promote sound Corporate Governance culture within the Bank.

The Bank continues to enhance its policies and procedures in Corporate Governance with a view to effectively apply the instructions and standards pertaining to Corporate Governance rules in order to safeguard the Bank and its rights and the rights of its shareholders, depositors, creditors, customers, staff members and other stakeholders. In addition to that the Bank has taken the necessary procedures to develop and update its bylaws and policies to comply with the CB requirements. Further, the Bank adopts the utmost degrees of transparency while disclosing all material information relevant to the Bank, and discloses them in accordance with Capital Markets Authority (CMA) and Boursa instructions.

2. General Principles

Corporate Governance has become a mountain concern for economic organizations in various countries on the back of the financial crisis that hit large shareholding companies and shook confidence in the sound management of such companies, as well as in the integrity of their declared financial results and the realities of the stock prices of these shareholding companies at global stock markets. The global financial crisis of 2008 emphasized the importance of Corporate Governance as the crisis revealed that poor Corporate Governance and failures in implementing sound practices have been among other factors that contributed in the outbreak of the global financial and economic crisis.

Corporate Governance at banks is of significant importance due to the major risks and implications arising from malpractices in the banking activities given the role that banks play in economy and the deeply rooted relationship between banks and the society in general whether depositors, borrowers, shareholders and employees in view of the nature and importance of products and services offered by banks to the national economy. Therefore, sound Corporate Governance practices at banks are essential for each bank and for the financial system. As such, effective Corporate Governance is an essential pillar for financial stability.

In light of the latest issues of the international Corporate Governance regulatory standards as well as the Companies Laws related to Corporate Governance, The Central Bank of Kuwait issued on 10th September 2019 an update to its instructions of the Corporate Governance Rules & Regulations in Kuwaiti Banks” to replace the old one issued in this regard. Some changes have been made; most notably the inclusion of the independent members in the formation of the BOD and its Committees to consolidate the principle of the independence of the BOD, and increasing the number of BOD members to be not less than eleven as well as the number of the independent members to be not less than four and not more than half the BOD members, in addition to ensure the importance of the BOD roles in the fields of risk management As well as emphasizing on risk governance, including information security and Cybersecurity in light of the growing importance of protecting the systems and information security in light of the challenges resulting from the rapid development of modern techniques used in the field of banking as well as adding the compliance function and ensure its governance in the overall risk management framework To the bank.

The said instructions included a set of basic pillars pertaining to banks' Corporate Governance principles including 9 pillars as follows:

1. Board of Directors.
2. Corporate Values & Ethics, Conflict of Interests and Group Structure (The Bank and its Subsidiaries).
3. Senior Executive Management.
4. Risk Management & Internal Controls.
5. Remunerations' Systems & Policy.
6. Disclosure & Transparency.
7. Complex Corporate Structures.
8. Protection of Shareholders' Rights.
9. Protection of Stakeholders' Rights.

Effective Corporate Governance practices are essential for building up public trust and confidence in the banking system, and are critical to the proper functioning of the banking sector and economy as a whole. Poor Corporate Governance can contribute to bank failures, which can in turn pose significant costs on the country and consequences of broader macroeconomic implications particularly in case of an operational crisis with impact on payment and settlement systems. Sound Corporate Governance practices involve the allocation of authorities and responsibilities, i.e. the methodology in which the business and affairs of a bank are governed by its Board of Directors and Executive Management, including how they:

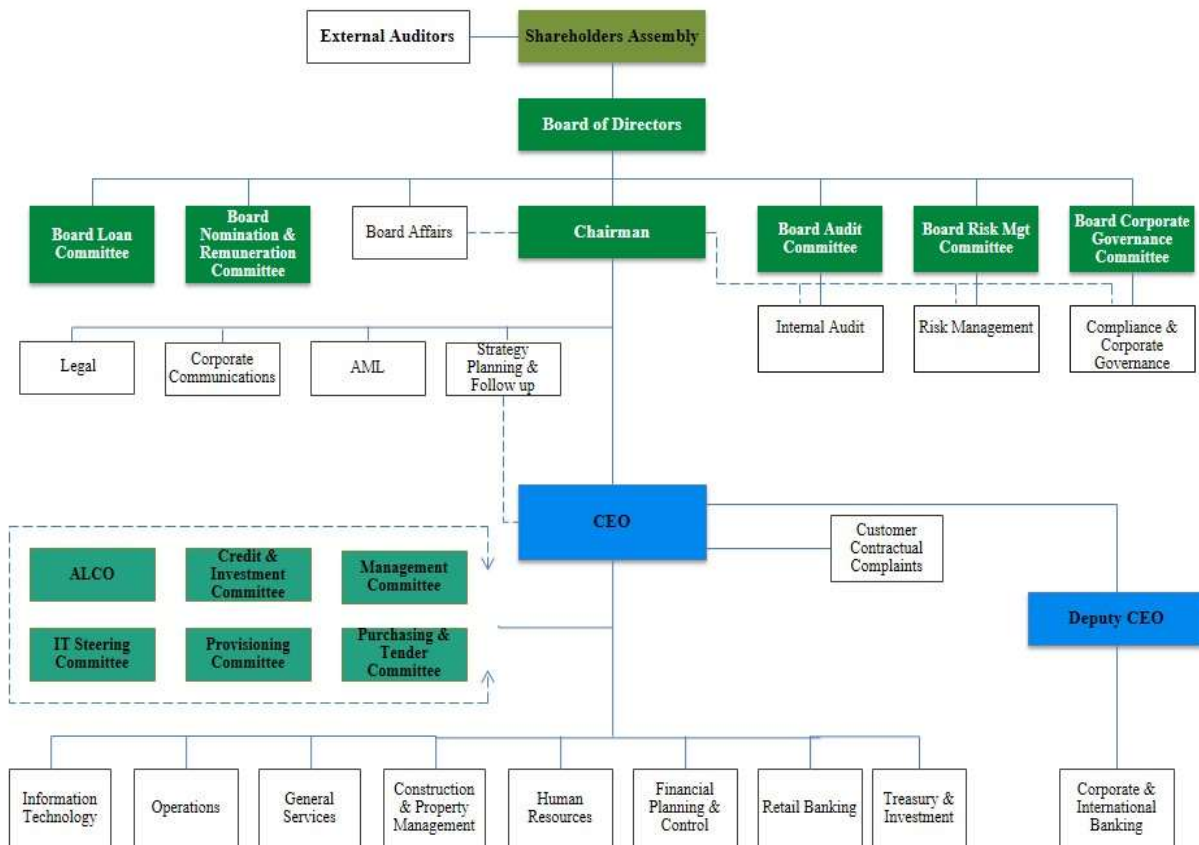

- Set the Bank's strategy and objectives;
- Identify the Bank's risk tolerance/appetite;
- Operate the Bank's business on a day-to-day basis;
- Protection of shareholders and stakeholders rights;
- The Bank operates its activities in a safe and sound manner, with integrity and in compliance with applicable laws and instructions;
- Manage the Bank, taking into account not to expose the banking sector to any system crisis.

3. The Bank's Organizational Chart and Governance Structure

The Bank endeavored to have in place an organizational chart in consistency with the Bank's nature, activities and size in which the required regulatory controls are insured to implement the Bank's strategy, and objectives and carry out its work within the framework of sound corporate Governance instructions through identifying the objectives, determining the roles , responsibilities and duties of all Units included in the Banks structure and determining the contact lines for all managers whatever their managerial level is, taking to its consideration the suitable internal control systems including bilateral oversight, segregation of responsibilities & the availability of policies & procedures, and job descriptions.. Taking in to account that the organizational chart shall be transparent, clear and uncomplicated which facilitate the decision making process, achieve good Governance, define the responsibility and accountability limits and includes important forms of control represented by the BOD oversight, the Executive management oversight and a direct oversight on the Bank activities, as well as an independent functions for Risk Management, Internal Audit and Compliance. It has also been taken in to account that the Governance structure contributes to effective control over the bank’s subsidiaries, and this structure is periodically evaluated to ensure its continuous suitability.

Below is the organizational and governance structure of the bank:

6. Corporate Ethics & Values and Group Structure (The Bank and its Subsidiaries)

a) Corporate Ethics and Values:

The Bank continues to apply sound Corporate Governance practices and further considers such practices as fundamental principles and significant components of its overall culture. During the year, the Bank has actively endeavored to enhance compliance with the corporate values and raise awareness of all staff members about such values.

The Bank complied with Corporate Governance values which were enhanced through a set of policies and procedures applicable at the Bank.

The Bank circulates the policies and Code of Conduct to all its employees, as well as the Board Members and obtains their signature as confirmation for abiding by the same.

Code of Conduct

The Code of Conduct which approved by the Board of Directors is one of the essential Corporate Governance pillars in the Bank. The Board of Directors and Executive Management are keen to adhere to this Code of Conduct in the day-to-day operations of the Bank and in dealing with its employees, clients and all other parties.

The Code of Conduct is reviewed periodically to ensure its consistency with all developments in the areas of Corporate Governance and Code of Conduct. The Board of Directors also supervises the efficiency of the implementation of the Code of Conduct through the internal audit and internal control to identify any gaps that can be identified and taking the necessary action.

Conflict of Interests

The Bank endeavors to ensure that the Conflict of Interest Policy as approved by the Board of Directors is properly applied within the Bank. Concurrently, and under the supervision of the Board Corporate Governance Committee and the Board of Directors, the Bank regularly reviews this policy in view of the Bank's business scope and to cope with the developments seen in legislative and regulatory instructions. In addition, the Bank adopts a set of procedures and forms & registers for regulating Conflict of Interest disclosures and identifying the required mechanism for dealing with the same.

This policy provides a general framework for Conflict of Interests that arises from the transactions/dealings with the Bank whether this conflict is between the Board Members and the Bank or between the Executive Management Team Members and the Bank. Further, this policy defines the term Conflict of Interests, and outlines some examples for Conflict of Interests cases & the responsibilities of affected member in addition to the disclosure steps and the way of handling the Conflict of Interest cases, and other matters as set out in this policy.

This policy sets the necessary rules and controls to ensure averting Conflict of Interests towards the Bank with a view to enhance transparency while making decisions.

Related Parties Transactions

The Bank endeavors to conduct all its transactions with related parties on an arm's length basis and under the same terms that are applied to other non-related parties without any preferential terms by implementing policy covering Transactions with Related Parties as approved by the Board of Directors. Furthermore, and under the supervision of the Board Corporate Governance Committee and the Board of Directors, the Bank regularly reviews this policy to ensure its consistency with the Bank's business scope and the progress seen in legislative and regulatory instructions. In addition, the Bank maintains the related parties' lists and adopts a set of procedures and uses forms & registers that regulate the related parties' transactions.

The objective of this policy is to provide a framework for the related parties' transactions with the Bank, as the related parties may have authorities and influence towards the Bank, hence they may have the chance to get exceptional benefits in their transactions with the Bank. This policy establishes the necessary rules and controls for regulating transactions with related parties on a transparent and arm's length basis and also to avoid Conflict of Interests.

Inside Information and the Insiders

It should therefore exercise adequate oversight over subsidiaries with due respect to the legal independency of Corporate Governance responsibilities related to the subsidiaries' Board Members. In addition to ensure that the Governance structure contributes to the effective oversight over subsidiaries along with assessing it regularly.

7. Risk Management & Internal Controls

The Bank has in place effective and independent internal control and risk management systems with due observation of expertise and competence to be possessed by the concerned officials. Within its efforts to comply with Corporate Governance rules, the Bank's Board of Directors endeavored to get Head of Risk Management Division, Chief Internal Auditor and Head of Compliance and Corporate Governance have independence and the right to obtain all required information related to their duties and functions with easy access to the Chairman of the Board of Directors and the Board Committees' chairpersons without any obstacles.

Internal Control Systems:

- The Board of Directors has approved an organizational structure that is consistent with the Bank's nature, activities and size, it is transparent, clear and lack of complexity as mentioned before. Adequacy and effectiveness of the internal control systems shall be verified at least once annually.
- The Board of Directors ensures independency and competency of the Internal Audit Department.
- The Bank shall not outsource the duties related to assessing the adequacy of the internal control systems, and other technical and consulting duties to the audit firms that handle the audit of the banks financials statement as mentioned in the Central Bank Instructions in this regards.
- The Bank places high importance on transparency where the Bank's annual report includes a report on the adequacy of the internal control systems as well as the External Auditor's opinion about the internal control systems.

Risk Governance Framework:

The Bank has set and developed robust comprehensive systems & procedures for risk management with a view to determine the nature of all material risks to which the Bank is exposed and spread the culture of risk governance across the Bank. Further, the Bank has identified and overseen risks at the level of each unit and at the Bank wide as a whole. Risk Management is responsible for implementing the Risk Strategy, developing methodologies for identifying and assessing material risks in the bank, measuring the Bank's exposures to such risks and reporting them, monitoring this exposure in view of the Bank's risk appetite, determining the capital needs on an ongoing basis, as well as monitoring and assessing the decisions related to taking certain risks. The risk Governance framework should include well defined regulatory responsibilities for the Risk Management Function which are usually referred to as three lines of defense as follow:

- The first line of defense: It is the Business Line, whose activities have the potential to create risks for the Bank, and therefore their responsibility is to assess and manage such risks.
- The second line of defense: It includes the Risk Management Team and Compliance Functions .These functions are independent of the first line of defense, risk management is monitoring and reporting to the top management and supervising the Bank's risk areas and assessing them independently from the first line of defense to enhance and complete its function. Compliance Department is monitoring the compliance with the laws, regulations and Governance rules.
- The third line of defense: It is the Internal Audit function, which is independent of the first and second lines of defense.

Following are the procedures done by the bank in this regards:

- The Bank has established and developed robust comprehensive systems and procedures for risk management so as to recognize the nature of key risks facing the bank and to spread culture of risk governance across the bank.
- The Bank takes into account any risks which might arise from the launch of new products; or any change in the volume of activities, operating environment, quality of portfolio, or
